Nick Betts

Managing Director

Canadian Alliance for Net-Zero Agri-food

Nick is the inaugural Managing Director for the Canadian Alliance for Net-Zero Agri-food. He is an action-driven, strategy-guided leader in building and deploying opportunities that drive positive climate impact across the agri-food industry. While spanning roles in farm associations, agricultural ministries, international industry associations, and global climate consulting, Nick's unique perspective and experiences catalyze innovative and implementable solutions from boots to boardroom.

Through his 15+ years working in agricultural sustainability, Nick brings a robust international industry and academic network, experience in leading global initiatives in regenerative agriculture and a deeply seeded understanding and awareness of Canadian agriculture and farming communities. Nick has a B.Sc. in ecology from the University of Guelph and MBA in leadership and sustainability from the University of Cumbria (UK) and holds certificates in sustainability reporting, farm transition planning, change management and Lean business strategy.
